(From the Cleveland Herald.)
A Young Man Detected in Female Guise.
About two months ago, a young girl of pleasing looks and address came here from New York city. At first she did duty as a hotel waiter, and afterward, through some means or other, got a situation at the Varieties, where she presided over the cigar stand. There her good looks and winning ways obtained her numerous customers, and she drove a brisk business. In many cases her fascinated patrons refused to take any change, and thus "Miss Addie"—for that was her name—throve apace in her own right, and managed to pick up any amount of pin money. Addie's admirers, from the first, were numerous, but eventually they began to besiege her in droves, so that often the cigar stand would draw better than the stage itself.
She was an accomplished coquette, and thus had a smile for each and every one of the crazy crew at her feet. Her smiles were by no means confined to the young, for gray hairs were found worshipping at her shrine as often as the fair locks of youth. Among those who wooed her were old bachelors, and young America, and men of family, and widowers, and brainless fops, and boys whose chins had not even made the acquaintance of down. And the attentions to which she was treated were by no means confined to the wordy class. No, indeed! Substantials in abundance fell to her lot. Old Mr. So-and-so gave her a new dress, and "old back" So-and-so presented her with several pairs of pocket handkerchiefs, and Fast So-and-so sent her two pairs of silk garters, and several pairs of Alexander's best, while Master So-and-so gave her an order for a new bonnet. Then, too, scarcely a day passed that she was not taken out to ride behind a pair of fast nags, with all the usual accessories of ice-cream, strawberries and cream, Roman punch, &c.
Thus things went on—from the time of her appearance at the Varieties—in this rosy way until a few days ago, when the astounding discovery was made that "Miss Addie" was a man! Of course the manager and her crowd of admirers were both astounded, and inclined to doubt their senses; but in spite of all it turned out that she was not a woman, but that she was a man.
The young man stated that for fourteen years he had worn the garb of a woman, in which guise his fair and pleasing looks had materially assisted him. In fact he looks as much like a woman when in male attire as when dressed in bonnet and gown. In New York he played the part of a "pretty waiter girl" at a Broadway Varieties, remaining there till the waiter girls were "crushed," when he came hither.
Since the discovery of his ruse, he has gone on the stage, and appears each evening at the Varieties, in "part first."
"Truth is stranger than fiction." ica, after an absence of several Years in the universal Public, as well as his immediate patrons, has arranged a Gratuitous Exhibition!

Which the people of Europe looked upon as a rare and valuable sight.
A GEORGEOUS PAGEANT More brilliant than ever witnessed by mortals since the days of Chivalry, or the splendor of the Middle Ages. This great procession will appear the Grand Chariot of Conquest Carrying a Living Lion in the Streets And containing an Alligator, a Tiger, a Bear, a Wolf, a Fox, a Rabbit, a Group of Beautiful Females, Classically dressed. At the feet of the leading Lion, trained by Mr. Crockett.
Around are grouped beautiful girls representing Europe, Asia, Africa and America!
With Truth and Justice standing by.
This magnificent Pageant Piece will be followed by MR. T. J. ADAMS' CHINESE
CHARIOT OF CONQUEST
MANNING CAGE OF
LIONS!
And other Grand, Rare and Heretofore unseen spectacles, drawn by detachments of the Magnificent Staff of Foreign Horses, and succeeded by the whole Troupe of Artists, including the most Beautiful Lady Riders
IN THE WORLD, A STUD OF
FOURTEEN
SHEPHERD PONIES!
DRAGON HORSES!
FAIRY CHARIOT OF
TITANIA!
The whole forming the most attractive out-door spectacle witnessed on this Continent.
ATTACHED TO THIS ESTABLISHMENT IS
MR. CROCKETT
The Great Lion Tamer!
With a den of six enormous Lions, fresh from the Forest, Untamed and Unsubdued—save by this best of quorum, whose daring exploit at As-tley's Amphitheater, London, won him enduring fame. This glorious act consisted in going alone into a whole herd of Beasts, which had escaped from their cage, and devoured a poor fellow who fell in their way, and by mysterious power, quelling their rage and thirst for blood, and leading them back to their den.
Mr. CROCKETT will appear at each performance, in their enormous Cage, feed them with raw meat from his naked hands, and demonstrate his control over them by making them perform a number of marvellous and surprising feats, and in the interval in the Circus Entertainment Mr.
CROCKETT will go through his amazing and Wonderful Performances within the Immense Den of WILD LIONS!
In the center of the Arena, exhibiting to the audience a degree of sterling courage and nerve never before equalled by mortal man.
IN ADDITION TO THESE UNIQUE AND REMARKABLE ATTRACTIONS Which themselves exceed all others now before the Public, the Management takes pride and pleasure in announcing that the HEROIC ARAB
Nine in number, will appear in their wonderful and
CHARACTERISTIC FEATS!
At each exhibition. There is no race of people on the globe, so quick of center more than it is interesting to the Public in general, and the Historical Student in particular, than the race in which these
LITHE AND GRACEFUL
NOMADS belong. Whether considered in relation to the peculiar life they lead—of beautiful and strange traditions which they hold their ancient life and habits, as described in the Bible—their preference for poverty and song—their Powers of Physical Endurance and their almost inconceivable skill as Rovers, they challenge our wonder and respect. Those attached to this establishment are noble specimens of their tribe, and present all the peculiarities of their people, while as
GYMNASTS
POSTURES & ACROBATS
they are without parallel. Their quickness of mind is incredible; their quickness of the eye; their supple grace sets at defiance all known gymnasti-cal feats; while their cheerfulness realizes the very ideal of the POETRY OF NOTION!

It is impossible to describe their immense and truly astonishing feats—"the acrobatic prodigy" can alone satisfy the public that they stand without rivals in their various Acts, Feats and Accomplishments.
Prominent among the Attractive Talent of the Arena, are such Artists
MISS LUCY WATSON,
the beautiful and charming English Equitress, Whose career in America has been marked by a succession of triumphs unprecedented in Acrobatic annals.

New Phase of Human Depravity.
As a class, the Southern negroes have always commanded a certain degree of respect on account of their general deportment, well-care and sleek-looking bodies, and the simplicity and earnestness of their religious character. Poor-houses and hospitals were unknown among them, and cases of intemperance very rare. When under the care of masters, excessive indulgence was impossible.
Now, however, they are invested with the principles of freedom, and forthwith we find that base white men, having no interest in the preservation of their life or morals, begin to hover around the unprotected victim, plying him with all the alluring devices which pertain to a higher civilization (?) with the object of making filthy lucre. Take as an example the following from the New Orleans Picayune:
"Will it be easily believed that there are three among us who are in the habit of peddling out poisonous whiskey and other vice commodities to the vagabond negroes who are to be found on the line of the rail road, in Mississippi, and in the perplex of the parishes and villages, taking therefor their little loads of silver, and making of these poor creatures the pests and nuisances of their neighborhoods?"
Unless strong preventive measures are employed, there is reason to fear that the lot of the unfortunate Indian race will in course of time fall to the descendants of the African in this country, and that instead of having occasion, as now, to marvel at the fecundity of the Southern negro, we shall see him wandering away from the incursions of disease, and various propensities. This is the fate of the Sandwich Islander and of all the inferior races when brought into competition with the pure-blooded white man. Let our philanthropic societies take notice, and seek to devise a remedy. Good summary laws may accomplish something. Negroes heretofore have increased rapidly at the South. It would be a sad story if they should degenerate and decrease them.—Journal of Commerce.
"WATERFALLS"—America is noted for its waterfalls, natural and otherwise." By the latter expression it must not be inferred that an artificial cascade is meant, but rather the graceful "fall" worn by the ladies to adorn their hair. But a reporter has just discovered that this fashionable appendage is not solely monopolized by the ladies. In passing down Broadway, he observed, with much surprise, an elderly gray-haired gentleman, walking demurely along, while from under his broad brimmed hat was protruding a splendid "waterfall" in a silk net, and what's more, it was composed of the genuine article—the gentleman's own hair. The ladies looked and tuttered, and evidently thought it an encroachment on their special rights. The old gentleman evidently saw no reason why having the hair, he should not be permitted to display it in the latest style, even if that style had been monopolized by the ladies.
